RECESSIONAL

Speaker

PAUL ELLINGER

Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, and Comptroller of the University of Illinois System

Dr. Ellinger earned his degrees in agricultural mechanization and agricultural economics from the University of Illinois. Ellinger significantly contributed to the efforts of Illinois Extension during the 1980s financial crises. His work helped develop crucial financial information and decision-making tools to support Illinois farmers. His widely published research has concentrated on financial modeling, credit risk, performance, merger activity, and financial management of institutions.

Dr. Ellinger has been on the University of Illinois faculty since 1995, specializing in finance and accountancy in the College of ACES. Ellinger, who also holds a doctorate in finance from the university, has served in various pivotal roles, including faculty member, department head, and Vice Provost for Budget and Resource Planning, before his current executive appointments.

Dr. Ellinger is a proud co-owner and manager of a Central Illinois grain farm. He is an avid runner completing 17 marathons and spending time outside with his family and friends.

Academic Dress

Academic dress, consisting of cap, gown, and hood, originated about the twelfth century, and was worn primarily for warmth. Subsequently, the material of the gown and the lining, and shape of the hood, represented the economic, social, and academic status of the wearer.

In the United States, the great majority of the academic costumes now worn are in accordance with the general provisions of the Intercollegiate Code of 1895, which was revised in 1932 and again in 1960. Under this code, the bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves, the master's gown has oblong sleeves with an arc at the bottom, and the doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. Black is the traditional color for gowns, although at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, academic dress has been designed specifically for the Institution: blue gowns with orange accents and blue mortarboards.

The bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed. The doctor's gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves. The facing and bars may be black or blue, as is the case at Illinois, or may be the color of the subject to which the degree pertains. The bachelor's gown is worn closed; the master's and doctor's gowns may be worn open or closed.

The bachelor's hood is 3 feet in length; the master's, 3 1/2 feet; and the doctor's, 4 feet. Hoods are lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. At Illinois, the lining is orange and blue. The colored velvet border of the hood, which is 2 inches, 3 inches, and 5 inches wide for the bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degree, respectively, identifies the faculty or field of study to which the degree pertains.

The mortarboard cap is standard in the United States. Usually, all tassels are black, but where the bachelor's graduates do not wear hoods, as at Illinois, the color of the cap tassel indicates the department of study. Candidates for degrees wear tassels on the right front quadrant of their caps and move them to the left front quadrant after degrees are conferred. Caps are considered a part of the costume and are customarily removed only during an invocation or benediction, and then by men only. The orange and blue braided cords worn from the left shoulder by bachelor's graduates signify University Honors.

The Jewel of Office worn by the President was presented to the University of Illinois Alumni Association. It is emblematic of the Office of the President and is worn at all formal academic ceremonies. On the gold collar, also worn by the President, are engraved the names of the Presidents of the University and their years of service. For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctor's gown, edging of hoods, tassels of caps, and linings of banners, the colors associated with the different disciplines are indicated below.

ACES - Maize	Law - Purple
Applied Health Sciences - Sage Green	Liberal Arts & Sciences - White

Business - Drab	Media - Crimson
Education - Light Blue	Philosophy - Dark Blue
Engineering - Orange	Social Work - Citron
Fine & Applied Arts - Brown	Veterinary Medicine - Gray

 The tassel is worn on the right-front quadrant until the degree is conferred.*
